ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This research has been successfully done thanks for the kindness and assistance of all teachers and professors concerned. I am particularly thankful to Professor Boonthum Kitpridaborisut for his valuable recommendations and advices in pointing out the problems, how to solve the problems, and how to make a quality research tool. My thanks to the research councilors from Buddhism Research Institute, Mahachularlongkornrajavidyalaya University who helped to push this research to the final goal successfully. Finally, I am particularly indebted to the ancestors and my parents for their support and encouragement. I would like to devote all the benefits from this research to all teachers and others concerned.
